AFFIDAVIT OF ELIZABETH ROSENBERG

1. I am a Records Request Processor at the Internet Archive, located in San Francisco, California. I make this declaration of my own personal knowledge.
2. The Internet Archive is a website that provides access to a digital library of Internet sites and other cultural artifacts in digital form. Like a paper library, we provide free access to researchers, historians, scholars, and the general public. The Internet Archive has partnered with and receives support from various institutions, including the Library of Congress.
3. The Internet Archive has created a service known as the Wayback Machine. The Wayback Machine makes it possible to browse more than 450 billion pages stored in the Internet Archive's web archive. Visitors to the Wayback Machine can search archives by URL (i.e., a website address). If archived records for a URL are available, the visitor will be presented with a display of available dates. The visitor may select one of those dates, and begin browsing an archived version of the Web. Links on archived files in the Wayback Machine point to other archived files (whether HTML pages or other file types), if any are found for the URL indicated by a given link. For instance, the Wayback Machine is designed such that when a visitor clicks on a hyperlink on an archived page that points to another URL, the visitor will be served the archived file found for the hyperlink's URL with the closest available date to the initial file containing the hyperlink.
4. The archived data made viewable and browseable by the Wayback Machine is obtained by use of web archiving software that automatically stores copies of files available via the Internet, each file preserved as it existed at a particular point in time.
5. The Internet Archive assigns a URL on its site to the archived files in the format `http://web.archive.org/web/[Year in yyyy][Month in mm][Day in dd][Time code in hh:mm:ss]/[Archived URL]` aka an "extended URL". Thus, the extended URL `http://web.archive.org/web/19970126045828/http://www.archive.org/` would be the URL for the record of the Internet Archive home page HTML file (`http://www.archive.org/`) archived on January 26, 1997 at 4:58 a.m. and 28 seconds (1997/01/26 at 04:58:28). A web browser may be set such that a printout from it will display the URL of a web page in the printout's footer. The date indicated by an extended URL applies to a preserved instance of a file for a given URL, but not necessarily to any other files linked therein. Thus, in the case of a page constituted by a primary HTML file and other separate files (e.g., files with images, audio, multimedia, design elements, or other embedded content) linked within that primary HTML file, the primary HTML file and the other files will each have their own respective extended URLs and may not have been archived on the same dates.
6. Attached hereto as Exhibit A are true and accurate copies of browser printouts of the Internet Archive's records of the archived files for the URLs and the dates specified in the footer of the printout or an attached coversheet (in the case of records for which a browser does not provide a ready option to print a URL in the footer, e.g., in the case of a PDF file).

7. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

FAQ

Is CBD from hemp legal?

Our revolutionary Hemp oil cannabidiol (CBD) wellness products are legal to consume both here in the U.S. and in many countries abroad. The United States currently considers industrial hemp products to be legal as long as they are derived from industrial hemp and not from any part of the plants categorized under the United States Controlled Substance Act as marijuana. Dixie X's parent company Medical Marijuana, Inc., is a publicly traded company (see link <http://www.sifmarkets.com/dixie-x/>) that does not grow, sell or distribute any substances that violate United States Law or the controlled substance act.

Is the CBD in Dixie X synthetic?

Dixie X Hemp CBD Wellness Products are derived from a Hemp whole plant extract. We are proud to offer this naturally occurring form of high quality CBD that is not chemically synthesized in a lab.

Dixie X Science Director, Tamar Wise, elaborates:

"The CBD we use is biologically created in hemp plants and our methodology isolates and extracts it. We then infuse this naturally occurring CBD into our line of hemp products."

Are Dixie X products made in the USA?

Yes, all Dixie X products are manufactured in our state of the art 27,000 square production facility located in Denver, Colorado. We are proud to be a company that not only produces a revolutionary line of CBD products, but also does so in the U.S.

Why are your products so expensive?

Dixie X is the first whole Hemp plant based wellness line of products containing CBD. It represents a significant capital investment of millions of dollars to bring these products to the Continental U.S. and in early 2013, European markets. Red Dice Holdings has a staff of over 25 individuals, including a team of scientists, engineers and clinical herbalists based in the U.S. working to formulate, develop and produce Dixie X. The technology is new and by most standards, revolutionary. All of these components, including strict chemical analysis testing regimens provided by a certified ISO 17-025 testing facility, directly impact the cost to produce Dixie X. We are committed to providing the highest quality products to our customers, balanced with integrity and sustainability.

What is the Compassionate Care Club and how does it work?

The Dixie X Compassion Care Club offers you the opportunity to receive a 25% discount on your ongoing purchases using our auto order system.

When will you begin shipments outside of the U.S.?

Dixie X will begin international distribution (including Great Britain) in early 2013. As a courtesy to our international customers, our customer service staff will gladly coordinate the pickup of orders with most international shipping companies including UPS and FedEx. Advance coordination is required and the associated shipping fees must be prepaid in advance of shipment by the customer.

Do you lab test your products?

All of our products are tested multiple times during the manufacturing process using both traditional ISO 17 025 chemical testing facilities, as well as cannabinoid testing facilities, all of which are based in the U.S.

Will Dixie X work for me?

Each individual is unique and has different ailments and concerns they are interested in addressing though the consumption and application of the Dixie X product lines. While we are not medical professionals and cannot make medical claims, the feedback we have received from a variety of patients and consumers alike has been overwhelmingly positive. We encourage you to visit our "testimonials" page on our www.dixie.com website to read more.

FAQ

As with any medical condition, we also encourage you to confer with your physician about Dixie X and develop the most appropriate health and wellness regimen for your specific needs.

Can you disclose revenue projections or sales numbers?

Our company policy is that we don't discuss sales revenue or statistics outside of what is reported by our parent company, Medical Marijuana, Inc. (MJNA). Our new Dixie X product line is being received very well across the country by patients and consumers alike. We encourage you to visit our website and social media pages on Facebook and Twitter to see what customers are saying about Dixie X.

Will Dixie X make me feel "high"?

We are not aware of any psychotropic effects associated with using these products. The complete product line of Dixie X is consistently tested throughout the formulation and manufacturing process to ensure it meets all local, state and Federal guidelines and laws.

How long will it take me to get my order?

You can expect your order to arrive in 3-5 business days assuming shipment through the United States Postal Service. Orders received by 1:00 MST on Fridays are shipped the next business day.

What is the difference between CBD from hemp and CBD from medical cannabis?

While the two plants are botanically related, our hemp contains no THC and numerous medical studies have shown CBD to have significant potential health benefits for a variety of ailments ranging from epilepsy to pain management. Medical cannabis contains THC and may provide relief from various ailments, however, with a psychotropic effect.

Will Dixie X ever be available in grocery and health food stores?

We are currently in discussion with several major retail chains and hope to offer Dixie X through those retail partners soon.
